

FRIGID COLD IN WEST CLAIMS LIVES OF 47

9 Persons Perish as Snowslides Race Down Mountainsides in Colorado.

DENVER, Col., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Snowslides, subzero cold and blizzards have taken 47 lives in one of the most severe winters of recent years in the mountainous far west.

Giant snowslides racing down Colorado mountains have caused the most spectacular of the tragedies with a loss of nine lives in the last nine days—but bitter cold has been the most potent agent of destruction, records showed tonight.

Two gold camps have been hit by the snowslides.

One was the famous Old Camp Bird, high in the Rockies, where Thomas F. Walsh, one of the early Bonanza kings, piled up his fortune.

The other was the Hesperus mine, 70 miles south of Camp Bird, where six were killed and five bodies remained buried under tons of snow and ice. Two of the three dead still are buried at Camp Bird. There is a question whether any can be recovered before warm weather.

Another avalanche slipped from the steep mountainside onto the picturesque Snoqualmie Pass highway, east of Seattle in the Cascade mountains of Washington state, and killed three persons trapped in motor vehicles.

In Montana 20 persons have died as arctic blasts swept the state. Fifteen of the deaths occurred since February 1. Starvation, fires caused by stoves overheated against temperatures as low as 52 degrees below zero, and exposure were given as the cause of death.

Subzero weather and blizzards in Wyoming were blamed for six deaths, some of which occurred in automobile accidents resulting from lack of visibility in snowstorms.

In the northern section of California three deaths followed exposure to cold and snow, while in Washington and northern Idaho the same cause was given for three more deaths. Utah reported but one death from the frigid weather and snow that closed highways for days. Similarly there was one death reported from the southern section of Idaho, making two for the state. One was listed from Nevada.

FLOOD WATERS DRIVE HUNDREDS FROM HOME

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Dynamite explosions cracked ice gorges on two widely separated streams in Ohio tonight, while throughout the state ice and flood waters drove hundreds of persons from their homes and threatened bridges and dwellings.

More than 100 families already had fled their homes in Lansing and farther downstream at Crescent, Barton and Maynard. Observers said the most serious jam was left at Crescent, with the water mounting hourly.

Downtown Columbus bridges across the Scioto river were saved by dynamite which started a mile-long flow moving in open water. Jagged ice chunks wrecked a temporary work bridge across the river but caused no further damage.

Four men, including Police Chief Fred Kuntz, were caught in midstream when the ice broke and made their way to safety by leaping from cake to cake and finally by swimming. Belmont county sheriff, Howard A. Duff, said 200 or more homes in his section were flooded.

WOMAN IS DROWNED IN INDIANA RIVER

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Feb. 25.—(AP)—One woman was drowned when the Elmer river suddenly overflowed its banks early tonight sending a wall of water sweeping through a residential district and part of the business area. The water receded as rapidly as it rose and within a short time the stream was back in its banks.

Mrs. Thomas Penn, 43, was drowned as she attempted to escape from her home, which was in the path of the rushing water. Her husband was trapped in the house and finally climbed to safety on the roof.

The water swept into this city when an ice gorge at Mexico, 12 miles northeast, broke. In some places the water was as much as twelve feet deep. Through two streets of the business district it reached a depth of about a foot.

WORKMEN RESCUED FROM ROCK SLIDE

GOLDEN, Colo., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Fellow-workmen rescued three men who were buried under a rock slide on a WPA highway construction job near here today.

For a time it was thought others might have been buried, but tonight Sheriff Vernon E. Dowling said he believed only the three were trapped.

The three, George Gallegosben, John Nieto and Joseph Ulibarri, were taken to hospitals. Gallegosben, the only one seriously injured, suffered possible internal injuries and fractures of both legs.

Therapist left several men to dig through the tons of rock to make sure no other workers were under it.

FRANCE MAY DEFEND SOVIET PACT IN COURT

Flandin Says Paris Will Protect Accord Against Nazi Protest.

PARIS, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Pierre-Etienne Flandin told the chamber of deputies today France is ready to defend her mutual assistance pact with soviet Russia before the League Court for International Justice.

As the chamber resumed debate on the question of ratification of the pact, Flandin said if Germany contested the treaty as contrary to the spirit of Locarno, "presumably as an excuse to remilitarize the Rhineland," France is ready to take the question before the court.

He described the pact as "circling in the spirit of aggression."

Flandin, however, asserted the treaty has nothing in common with the pre-war Franco-Russian alliance because its doors are still wide open to Germany.

"France has never ceased to desire that Germany join in this special enterprise for the safeguarding of peace," he said to applause, and France cannot be reproached with "pactomania."

New Titles for Old Officers in Federal Reserve Bank

Officials of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta will abandon their old titles as governor and deputy governors on March 1, and be known as president, first vice president and so on, just as they are in any other bank. In the election held yesterday the officials were given their new designations under the provisions of the banking act of 1935. Robert S. Parker, well-known Atlanta attorney, was the only new officer elected. He has been general counsel for the bank for several years and will continue to serve in that capacity.

ance, and Milam and B. Graham West, city comptroller, attempted to explain it.

The bankers had under consideration at that time extension of further credits to the municipality. They have the matter under advisement and no indication of their attitude has yet been forthcoming. It is expected, however, that a definite answer will be given within the next few days.

Milam Statement.

Milam yesterday issued the following statement regarding the report: "Naturally the report of the auditor showing a variation of nearly a half-million dollars in our present sheet and what he considers a balanced budget is somewhat of a shock and a disappointment to me. When the sheet was adopted I stated to the council in my opinion it was anticipated to the last penny and as tight as a drum. It should be remembered that in making a budget for the city the committee bases its anticipations on statements and estimates furnished by the heads of income-producing departments, which are considered in the light of past records and present probabilities. We raised the estimate of income from personal assessments as submitted by the tax assessors about nine per cent.

I am informed that returns so far would seem to justify the raise. Assessments from realty were estimated at $400,000 less than actually went on the digest last year. Since each million in assessment produces $15,000 in revenue the net effect was to increase anticipation from that source about $120,000. From these anticipations the auditor has deducted $261,000, but in turn has increased our estimates from other sources about $80,000, or a net deduction from our estimates of about $201,000. To this amount he has added a liability of $120,000, three months' contribution to relief, notwithstanding this item does not appear in our sheet. Arrangements have been made to finance otherwise.

Permanent Improvements.

"To these sums has been added the amount of about $106,000 set up for permanent public improvements, which the finance committee, with the consent of the mayor, threw into the current deficit. In this procedure the auditor is probably correct, but permanent improvements to the public property of the city is not, strictly speaking, a current expense. These improvements were undertaken by reason of the fact that the city obtained vast benefits through federal grants, amounting to many times more than the amount of its investment, and it was felt to be in the public interest.

Ex-Justice's Son Seeks Presidency In Battle To 'Save' Constitution

DATON, Ohio, Feb. 25.—(AP)—A son of a former United States supreme court justice and secretary of state sought support in Ohio today for his candidacy for the republican nomination for president on a platform of preservation of the integrity of the court.

Stephen A. Day, 33, a Chicago attorney, said he began campaign against the New Deal because "I pledged my father that if the supreme court ever were in danger, I would fight with all my strength to preserve its integrity."

Day's father, William R. Day, served as secretary of state in the McKinley administration and was appointed to the supreme court by President Theodore Roosevelt, serving from 1903 to 1923.

"We lived in the same block with McKinley in Canton, Ohio," Day said. He asserted he was one of the first to come out openly in opposition to the policies of the present national administration.

"If the present administration is re-elected," he said, "the supreme court will be so weakened that its integrity will be destroyed and then will come a proletarian state with the average citizen on relief. We never would get the millions back to work."

Day, saying he was prepared to file his nominating petitions for the Ohio presidential primary within a few days, issued a challenge to all other aspirants for the presidential nomination to enter the Ohio primary.

"I am considering entering a complete list of delegates, both at large and by districts," he said. "I hope the pussyfooting of the republican party will stop and that all who feel they are entitled to leadership will come to Ohio and give the people a chance to pass on their qualifications. The people are entitled to know who the candidates are and for what they stand."

Day professed to have strong backing in Ohio and other midwestern states.

and a free press have been more liberally enjoyed than at present."

Mitchell Case Revived.

The Arkansas case swung into the Mitchell case. He read from the Congressional Record accounts of testimony concerning a recent move to restore the late general's full pay, slashed by the court-martial. His voice boomed as he said:

"Mr. Hastings—I object—this blocked consideration of the bill."

"Does the record show that I objected loudly as that?" twisted Hastings.

Robinson defended the Hagood suspension.

"I charge that there is at least one more corps commander in the army who is actively engaged in politics, who has a candidate of his own for president, and who boasts he is exercising his energies in behalf of his candidate."

"Name him!" demanded Hastings. The chamber was hushed. Senators leaned forward. The galleries, now packed, were silent.

"He is," said Robinson slowly, "F. C. Bolles, commander of the seventh corps area."

"Do I understand," Hastings taunted, "that the senator undertakes to defend the President's action in the Hagood case?"

"I make no apology for it," Robinson replied sharply.

Soon the debate became a free-for-all fight. It found the two West Virginia senators wrapping bitterly over administration of WPA in their state. Administrator Harry L. Hopkins has promised a thorough investigation.

Hastings read charges against WPA administration in West Virginia, made yesterday by Senator Rush D. Holt, whose brother recently was dismissed from a WPA job in that state. This brought Senator M. M. Neely, democrat, West Virginia, into the debate. He asked Hastings to wait an "impartial" investigation before repeating such second-hand charges.

Holt stuck his hands in his coat pockets and said:

"Does my colleague deny the truth of one, single solitary fact? Neely said he would reply in due time. Senator Tom Connally, democrat, Texas, was drawn in when he mockingly inquired if it was necessary to "wash all the dirty linen of all the 48 states."

"I suspect," retorted Hastings, "that if we got after the facts we would find the same condition in the WPA in Texas."

"I suspect," Connally replied, "that the senator from Delaware doesn't know what he's talking about." He described Delaware as a state with "three counties when the tide is out, 1, 2, and when the tide is in."

Hastings pointed out bluntly that Hagood made his "stage money" and other critical remarks about WPA spending before a house subcommittee before the army appropriation bill after members had asked him to speak frankly about matters before them.

"In my official observation," Hastings insisted, "was what any good man, interested in his country, might reasonably say to a congressional committee."

Engagements Cancelled.

In this connection, the Delaware senator recalled a recent incident in which several high-ranking navy and marine corps officers cancelled speaking engagements before a woman's peace society here following attacks on the New Deal.

The late Henry L. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, who was buried here today, a cousin of President Roosevelt, Hastings added, "was forced to take the blame" for this incident.

Hastings asked Robinson bluntly if the Hagood suspension was to be taken as a warning to others that quick punishment would follow antagonistic activities against the New Deal.

"I had not intended it that way," Robinson replied heatedly, "but since it has been suggested, I think it would be well for all our army officers to take into consideration the regulations which bind them."

"You are beginning right here, just as has been going on for some time," Hastings retorted, "to intimate to the people of the land that if they express themselves about the administration they may expect some kind of punishment."

Hagood, World War hero and one of the army's highest ranking officers, was told to go home and "await orders" in the order relieving him of his command at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Indications are he will remain inactive at his Charleston (S. C.) home until he reaches retirement age in 1937.

Animals Electrocutd.

KALAMATH FALLS, Ore., Feb. 25.—(AP)—One thing led to another in Langell valley when a power line fell and killed a cow. Another cow touched the line and received a jolt that stunned her. A cat came to inspect and was electrocuted. Two jackrabbits met similar fates.

BLANTON CHARGES U. S. "DOUBLE-CROSSED" HAGOOD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Charging that the War Department was making "an ass of itself" in disciplining Major General Johnson Hagood for his criticism of New Deal policy before a house committee, Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas, tonight "threw an ass" at the War Department by testifying "freely, fully and frankly."

He produced copies of letters from Secretary Derwent General Main Cerk, chief of staff, the latter of which said the War Department was placing "no restrictions whatever" on officers appearing before a house appropriations subcommittee.

So incensed was the Texan yesterday after hearing that Hagood had been relieved of his command of the eighth corps area and ordered home to "await instructions," following his designation of WPA "unds as 'stage money,'" that he shouted that Dern, Craig and Assistant Secretary of War Woodring should be "impeached."

Reversal Charged.

"You'll see from these photostatic copies of the letter I sent the War Department and its reply furnished me by the department," Blanton said tonight, "that there are no restrictions placed on officers before a committee by the War Department."

The officers mentioned by you," Craig wrote Blanton, on December 11, "who are to appear before you as witnesses, will be instructed by me in person that they are to answer you freely, fully and frankly and that there are no restrictions whatever placed upon their appearance before your committee by the War Department."

The letter was in reply to one written by Blanton in which he had asked the committee would have before it Hagood and other prominent officers of the army, and that "from long experience I am confident that the usual restrictions placed on officers before a committee 'which once in a while greatly handicaps the committee in getting the most pertinent information about matters with which they are vitally concerned'."

"Our committee will want to feel free to ask them questions that will elicit full, free and frank answers, unrestricted and uncontrolled by any restrictions that anyone in your department could place upon them," Blanton wrote, "and I desire to request of you that such restrictions be placed upon them. If a member of a congressional committee can't ask a distinguished major general in our army a question and have the benefit of the officer's frank answers, based upon his judgment and experience, then there is something vitally wrong with our set-up."

More Balmly Weather Promised City Today

More balmly weather, under partly cloudy skies, on the weather bureau's schedule for Atlanta today, with an added possibility that tonight's weather may be a bit cooler.

"No rain is expected for Atlanta today," was the cheering word from Chief Forecaster George W. Mindling yesterday.

Temperatures will start at 50 degrees.

greets this morning, according to Mr. Mindling, and climb during the day as they did yesterday, from 50 in the morning to 71 in the afternoon.

Colder weather visited the middle plains of the United States yesterday and drifted down to Oklahoma, but weather forecasters said that this would not affect Atlanta.

Men Have Their Moments

All men are not disposed to follow fashion blindly. Because a suit, or a hat, or a shirt is considered 'tops' in London or New York, has little or less influence with a large per cent of the male population.

"Be not the first by whom the new is tried, nor last to lay the old aside"—is their maxim.

On the other hand, fashion trends are not to be ignored. One can be as conspicuous when out of step with the procession as those who pose as veritable fashion plates.

Catering as long as we have to the whims of men has given us insight to their likes and dislikes as few stores can equal.

And they do say it is uncanny how accurate we can foretell men's reaction to style.

*Incidentally, the new 'Sovereign Drape' suit for Spring will appeal to a majority of the men, because it is both smart and becoming.

INCREASE IN SALARIES
FOR ENGINEERS ASKED

Sewer Committee Approves
Supplements Requested by Donaldson.

Atlanta's sewer committee yesterday approved about $11,000 in salary increases for about 30 engineers now on city pay rolls and will ask the bond commission to concur in the action at a meeting to be held Monday.

Threatened delay in start of work on the Clayton and South river sewage disposal plants was avoided yesterday at a conference in the executive offices of Acting Mayor Ellis B. Barrett, and as an aftermath the sewer committee acted to clarify the confused status of the salaries of the engineers involved.

Clark Donaldson, chief of construction, told the sewer committee he recommended the action for two reasons.

"I want to say first that these men are familiar with our problems and with the sewer system," he said. "They are more valuable than other men we might bring in. Then, too, they have been working on reduced salaries for months and have been loyal. Their salaries at the present time and even with the salary supplements we propose in many instances would be far below what we could hire competent engineers on the outside for. In addition to that, the supplements are modest. The city will save at least $22,000 in handling this matter in the way our department has recommended that it be handled."

Barrett called the conference of city engineers and bond commission representatives yesterday after a deadlock between the city construction department and the bond commission threatened to delay start on the disposal units. He told them yesterday that the city could not afford to delay for a single day, and that the matter must be adjusted. All attending concurred.

The list which the sewer committee approved yesterday afternoon is the same one on which the bond commission delayed action at a meeting Monday.

BEIRUT, Syria, Feb. 25.—(P)—Nationalists whose bloody rioting cost a number of lives, won a French promise today of a treaty granting autonomous government.

Leniency for imprisoned rioters also was promised by Count Duménil de Martel, French high commissioner, on the request of the new cabinet.

Merchants hung flags on their closed shops while the people celebrated in friendly demonstrations.

France agreed to help the new cabinet end student and bazaar strikes, restore quiet and prosperity for a treaty like the one Great Britain now holds with Iraq. Paris also would give Syria membership in the League of Nations.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND IN TENNESSEE RIVER

SCOTTSBORO, Ala., Feb. 25.—(P)—The body of Mrs. Hugh B. Garland, young wife of a Scottsboro planter, was found in the Tennessee river near Wheeler dam this afternoon and 10 days after the disappearance of the couple during a motorboat ride here January 15, and two days following the finding of the body of her husband about four miles from his boat wharf.

Mrs. Garland's body was floating in the river when found by TVA workers at Wheeler dam, which is approximately 150 (river) miles from the point where the body of her husband was found.

The body was identified by Coroner Highsmith during an inquest on the banks of the river near Hillsboro and the same finding, "death by drowning," as returned in her husband's death was given.

No marks of violence were found on either the body of Garland or that of his wife, investigators reported.

WEBB IS PRESIDENT OF EMORY Y. M. C. A.

James Webb, of Macon, was elected president of the Emory University Y. M. C. A. for 1936-37, Emmett S. Johnson, director of the organization, announced yesterday.

Elected to serve with Webb were Alfred Jenkins, Douglas, vice president; Jack McMichael, Quitman, secretary; and Paul Wagner, Tampa, treasurer.

Webb has been active in Y. M. C. A. work since entering Emory, serving as vice president during the past year, heading several committees and leading deputations to different parts of the state.

NEGRO YOUTH CHARGED WITH HIT-RUN KILLING

Charged with driving a hit-run car which caused the death of an Annettel man, Mose Lee Brown, 26, negro, was returned yesterday to De Kalb county jail following his arrest in Alcoa, Tenn.

Detectives said the negro confessed to driving the car which struck a machine driven by J. W. Dobbs at Second avenue and Memorial drive last January 17.

Dobbs' injury resulted in his death, and four other persons were injured. Brown was arrested in Tennessee after detectives followed a trail to this city.

$10,000 FUND VOTED
FOR STREET REPAIRS

Finance committee members yesterday voted unanimously to make $10,000 available at once for emergency street repairs because of recent storm ravages.

The street repair fund, which heretofore has been available in 12 monthly installments, will be shifted so that $10,000 of the $25,000 set up for such repairs can be used immediately.

Action was deferred on a request of the sanitary committee to engage the services of another city physician for a period of six months to aid city doctors because of the unseasonable illness among the poorer citizens.

DR. HINTON DIES AT MACON OFFICE

Prominent Georgia Physician Passes After Long Illness.

MACON, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—Death today closed the career of Dr. Charles Hinton, distinguished central Georgia physician and one of the best known practitioners in this part of the state. He was 48. He was the brother-in-law of Dr. Henry D. Poer, of Atlanta.

He died of a heart attack in his office despite efforts of several physicians to save him. He had been ill six and a half years but continued his work.

Educated at Emory University and Johns Hopkins, he was on the staff of the City Hospital and Middle Georgia Sanitarium. During the World War he was stationed with the medical corps at Newport News, Va., and later was assigned to Rockefeller Institute in New York to make a special study of pneumonia.

His father, Professor James C. Hinton, is dean emeritus of Wesleyan College here. His mother and his wife, the former Allen Poer, of Atlanta, also survive.

Augusta Redeems Note Issued by City in 1860

AUGUSTA, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—Augusta, which still redeems Confederate money issued by it during the War Between the States, added another chapter today to its history as a city which "never has failed to meet a moral obligation."

A $500 bond, issued in 1860, maturing in 1886, and out-of-date long ago by the statute of limitations, was paid today by Comptroller Charles G. Paschal. The holder was W. J. Baxter, of Miami.

The bond was ordered paid by the city finance committee. City Attorney W. T. Gary said the city had no legal obligation to pay it. Who has owned it during the half century it has been "lost"—could not be traced as it was not a registered bond.

PECAN GROWERS WILL MEET TODAY

Growing and Marketing Problems To Be Discussed at Albany.

ALBANY, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—A program designed to give members of the Southeastern Pecan Growers' Association practical information on growing and marketing of the crop will be presented at the one-day conference of the association here tomorrow.

Various phases of the production and sale of the nuts will be presented by Department of Agriculture and other experts.

Because of the increasing importance of the pecan industry in the southeast, a large attendance is expected.

Sessions will begin at 8 a. m. central standard time, and continue throughout the morning and afternoon. A surprise banquet will be held tomorrow night.

On the program for addresses are R. C. Simpson, Monticello, Fla., president; Max Hardy, United States Department of Agriculture, Albany; J. R. Cole and J. R. Large, United States Department of Agriculture, Albany; G. H. Blackmon, Florida experiment station, Gainesville; G. F. Monette, United States Department of Agriculture, Albany; S. C. Simpson, Monticello; H. L. Cromartie, Baconton; R. D. Lewis and Earl Fowler, United States Department of Agriculture, Albany; E. B. Knowles, W. P. Bullard, H. A. McCord and P. J. Brown, Albany.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE WILL HEAR AINSWORTH

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 25.—(P)—Bishop W. N. Ainsworth, of Macon, president of the Anti-Saloon League of America, will be the keynote speaker at the league's ninth annual convention here March 1 to 3. It was announced here today by O. G. Christgau, national assistant superintendent.

Other speakers are Superintendent F. Scott McBride, Ernest H. Cherington, director of education; Dr. Ludd M. Spivey, president of Southern College, Lakeland, Fla.; and Bishop H. M. DuBose, Nashville, president of Tennessee Anti-Saloon League.

Bishop James Cannon, who has attended the convention for many years, will be prevented by illness from coming this year, Christgau said.

8 GEORGIA COUNTIES TO GO TO POLLS TODAY

Most Battles Will Be Fought Out on Purely Local Issues.

By the Associated Press.

Elections will be held in eight Georgia counties today.

Run-over races are to be settled in Colquitt and Carroll counties, and primaries, with lively opposition for a number of offices, are scheduled in Sumter, Bacon, Wilcox, Brooks, Grady and Madison counties.

On the surface, at least, all the political battles will be fought out along local lines.

The only straight-out Roosevelt-Talmadge contest which had been scheduled for today was called off. It was to have been a presidential preferential primary in which voters of Wilcox county would have expressed their choice between President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Governor Talmadge.

Talmadge sent word to Wilcox that he would like to see the race run but the county democratic committee called it off at the request of candidates for county offices, who said they did not wish the national issue mixed up with the local election.

Wilcox county still holds the election date, however, by reason of the fact that Georgia's only woman sheriff, Mrs. O. L. Smith, is a candidate for a full-term office.

Four months ago she was elected sheriff. Mrs. Smith was named sheriff after the death of her husband last June, and was formally elected for the remainder of his term at a special election.

Most other Wilcox county officials also had opposition.

In Carroll county there were five run-over races, for judge of city court, school superintendent, clerk of court, sheriff and county commissioner.

Colquitt county will hold one run-over race, for election of a county commissioner.

Brooks county reported two candidates each for sheriff, ordinary, school superintendent and city court solicitor. The clerk of court, judge of city court, coroner, tax receiver and tax collector were unopposed, although one county commissioner, Roy Lawson, was opposed by W. L. Ingram.

From Albany came a report of lively campaigning for a number of Bacon county offices. Seven men seek the office of clerk of court; four were running for school superintendent and tax receiver; M. T. Fournier has four opponents. The present clerk, J. A. Pearson, and G. A. Taylor, school superintendent, are not seeking re-election in Bacon.

Grady county will hold its quadrennial primary. Interest is keen.

One of the candidates there is in the hospital. He is Ben Willis, clerk of court, whose friends are carrying on a lively campaign for the office, also sought by Perry Baggett, former clerk. Mr. Willis recently underwent an operation. There are four candidates for coroner, three for school superintendent.

In Sumter county, six incumbents, the clerk of court, school superintendent, ordinary, city court judge, treasurer and coroner, were without opposition.

Madison county reported races for commissioner, ordinary, clerk of court, sheriff, tax commissioner, school superintendent and coroner.

A legal battle has developed over a demand for a recount of votes in the recent county primary in the race for clerk of court of Bainbridge, a county-wide office.

Gordon G. Bower requested a recount after he was declared loser in the race by 39 votes to Perry D. Rich. The county democratic executive committee decided to make a recount but was stopped by an injunction restraining Ben Kirk, secretary of the committee and clerk of superior court, restraining him from delivering ballots for the recount.

Judge B. C. Gardner, who granted a temporary restraining order to Rich, will hold a hearing next month.

RALPH JONES PASSES AT FAIRBURN HOSPITAL

FAIRBURN, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—Ralph Jones, 38, telephone operator at Fairburn, died at a local hospital today.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at Fairburn Baptist church at 2 o'clock. Rev. E. L. Roberts and Rev. J. T. Robbins officiating.

He is survived by four brothers, E. R. J. and Lewis Jones, of Fairburn; Bernice Jones, Bradenton, Fla.; three sisters, Mrs. Luther Wilson, Mrs. Bessie Rousch, Bradenton, Fla.; Mrs. R. E. Greville, Nashville, Tennessee.

MILLEN CLEARS LAND FOR NEW CITY HALL

MILLEN, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—Work has begun here in clearing ground for a new city hall for Millen. Materials are being placed and construction is expected to begin shortly. The city hall will be two stories of brick. The lower floor will be used for offices, the top floor for an assembly hall and committee rooms. Millen recently voted $6,000 in bonds for the hall. PWA funds will supplement this sum.

STATE BRIEFS

Physicians in Charge. ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—Two Augusta doctors, E. E. Murphy and V. P. Sydenstricker, of the University School of Medicine, Augusta, will be in charge of the University of Georgia Science Club meeting here Friday night. Drs. Murphy and Sydenstricker will discuss "the history of and recent researches in pellagra."

Re-elected at Canton. CANTON, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—Superintendent J. P. Cash has been elected for the 14th consecutive year, superintendent of Canton public school.

Plan To Raise Turkeys. SPARTA, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—Several Hancock county farmers are making preparations to raise turkeys this year on a large scale. Mammoth Bronze turkeys are being bought here and they hope to raise the "national bird" on a commercial basis. Some of them have raised as many as 100 turkeys in a season already and hope to greatly increase the number.

Jay-ees Elect. AMERICUS, Ga., Feb. 25.—A new president has just been named by Americus Jay-ees to serve during the ensuing year. W. W. Dykes Jr. was named to succeed Crawford Balch, who resigned preparatory to removing to Austin, Texas.

Regular Attendant. WAYCROSS, Ga., Feb. 25.—Dr. W. K. Meeks has attended Sunday school for 620 consecutive weeks. None of these attendances were made in other cities. They were all at Trinity Methodist church in Waycross, where Meeks served for many years as church treasurer. The record covers 11 years.

ATHENS WILL HEAR 2 NOTED SPEAKERS

Sir Arthur Willert and Raymond Buell on Institute Program.

ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—Two eminent speakers—Sir Arthur Willert, distinguished diplomat and publicist, and Raymond Leslie Buell, president of the Foreign Policy Association—next week will be brought to the University of Georgia by the Institute of Public Affairs.

Institute Director R. P. Brooks today said Willert will speak in the chapel at 11:30 a. m. Monday on "England and the World Crisis," and in the evening on "Europe in 1936," at an invitation dinner.

Buell will talk on "The World Adrift" at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday. At 4:30 in the afternoon he will lead a round-table discussion on the subject, "Is the Peace Machinery Dead?"

The public is invited to the Willert chapel address and to both of the Buell features, Director Brooks announced.

Willert was Washington correspondent for the London Times, 1910-20, and has been in intimate touch with public affairs in England, Europe and the United States for 25 years.

Buell, president of the Foreign Policy Association since 1933, has directed its research department for the last eight years. During the last 10 years he has been a member of the government and international relations faculties of Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Columbia Universities.

MUCH PROGRESS SEEN FOR MOULTRIE AREA

MOULTRIE, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—Moultrie, "center of one of the most famous farming sections in the nation, is one of the threshold of the greatest opportunity for progress in the South. It has ever experienced," says R. S. Roddenberry, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

"Whether these opportunities will be fostered and developed depends on the foresight, initiative, energy and co-operation of our businessmen and women," said Roddenberry, urging wholehearted cooperation in the chamber's current membership campaign.

Moultrie is the seat of Colquitt county, where a diversified farming program has been the subject of keen interest to farming and business circles of the nation.

The program, which resulted in an advanced agricultural development of the county, looking to a year-round harvest of cash crops, has been a boon to the farming industry.

JOHN OLIVER FREEMAN DIES AT TOCCOA HOME

TOCCOA, Ga., Feb. 25.—John Oliver Freeman, 63, former roadway supervisor of the Charlotte division of the Southern Railway, died at his home here this morning after a long illness.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, T. D. Freeman and J. F. Freeman, of Atlanta, and B. D. Freeman, of Norfolk, Va.; one daughter, Mrs. A. B. Collier, of Toccoa; eight brothers, J. W., Julius and Will Freeman, of Eastley, S. C.; J. R. Linder and J. M. Freeman, of Greenville, S. C.; Frank and Edward Freeman, of Lakeland, Fla.; and by 14 grandchildren.

Mr. Freeman served the Southern Railway for 19 years, and has been living in Toccoa for a number of years. Funeral services will be held at the Albermarle hotel here at 3 o'clock tomorrow with interment at the Toccoa cemetery.

BEAR QUADRUPLETS RESTING COMFORTABLY

MATERNITY WARD, ZOO HOSPITAL, WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(UP)—Ennie, Meenie, Mienie, and Moe, perhaps the rarest quadruplets ever born in America, rested comfortably tonight with their mother, Mrs. Ramona Bear.

Mrs. Bear was so jealous she wouldn't even let Dr. William M. Mann, zoo director and head nurse, approach close enough to see how much the children weighed. Mr. Scotty Bear, the father, sat outside on a cake of ice and proudly twirled his whiskers.

STATE DEATHS

MRS. L. O. WILLIAMS. CHIPLEY, Ga., Feb. 25.—Funeral services for Mrs. L. O. wouldn't even let Dr. William M. Mann, zoo director and head nurse, approach close enough to see how much the children weighed. Mr. Scotty Bear, the father, sat outside on a cake of ice and proudly twirled his whiskers.

FICKLENS TO HOLD 62D ANNIVERSARY

Wedding Date To Be Observed Today at Washington, Ga.

WASHINGTON, Ga., Feb. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Ficklen Sr. will celebrate their 62d wedding anniversary here tomorrow. The groom of 1874 is 84 years old and his bride is 83.

Both were born and reared in Wilkes. She was Mary Rembert Hill and he is the only surviving member of a group of nine children.

Their romance began as Miss Hill graduated with first honor at Lagrange Female College. Forthwith Mr. Ficklen bought a farm near the home of William W. Hill, and soon Miss Hill was mistress of the home on the smaller farm. There four of their five children were born, all of whom are living, together with 11 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Abandoning the farm, Mr. and Mrs. Ficklen became citizens of Washington in 1881. Tax receiver of the county was the first political office held by him, who later was county treasurer and a member of the general assembly for ten terms, holding the record of not missing a roll call during the long service as a legislator.

In business Mr. Ficklen was the organizer and operator of three banks, editor of the weeklies and head of an insurance agency for half a century, the latter being his chief business interest today.

The record of Senator Ficklen in punctual attendance at the state capital is more than matched by Mrs. Ficklen's church attendance record, which is without a parallel in Washington, and every Sunday crocheting is forgotten as she continues to lead an adult class in the church school.

Truck Accident Results In Free Oil to Farmers

STATESBORO, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—A highway accident brought trouble to a truck driver, but it gave free kerosene to scores of Bulloch county citizens.

The trailer of a large oil truck toppled over into a road-side ditch which soon began flowing with 2,000 gallons of kerosene.

Residents of the vicinity dammed the ditch and brought tubs, bottles, barrels, cups and buckets to get the kerosene which is used widely in rural areas for lighting and cooking. One enterprising farmer drove a truck to the ditch and filled several large drums. It was all free.

AMERICAN MINISTER ACCEPTS CANTON CALL

CANTON, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—Rev. O. M. Seigler, of Americus, has accepted a call from the First Baptist Church of Canton. Rev. Seigler will begin his work here April 1. He comes from the First Baptist church at Americus, where he has served for eight years.

He will fill the place vacated by Dr. T. Baron Gibson, who accepted a call to the First Baptist church in Valdosta.

DULUTH BEGINS WORK ON SCHOOL BUILDING

DULUTH, Ga., Feb. 25.—Work has started on the new brick veneer school building here, to replace the one which was destroyed by fire last summer. The new building will cost $37,000. Daniel & Beutell, of Atlanta, are the architects and F. H. Turnipseed, of Gainesville, is the contractor.

DU PONT FOUNDATION FOR CRIPPLES BEGUN

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 25.—(P)—A charter was granted in circuit court today to the Nemours Foundation, charitable enterprises to be financed from the estate of the late Alfred I. du Pont.

Mrs. Jessie Ball du Pont, the widow, was named president of the foundation, a nonprofit corporation.

The du Pont will provide for the foundation. It set aside up to $1,000,000 to be used for erecting buildings for a charitable institution on the estate "Nemours" in New Castle county, Delaware.

Crippled children not incapable of cure and aged persons will be eligible for aid by the foundation.

Mrs. du Pont is permitted to erect the institution buildings during her lifetime if she wishes. Income from the estate at her death is to go to the foundation.

The foundation is limited to an indebtedness of $200,000 and cannot hold real estate valued at more than $200,000.

E. R. LAYFIELD DIES IN MACON HOSPITAL

MACON, Ga., Feb. 25.—(P)—Ed R. Layfield, 64, widely known Central of Georgia railroad conductor and a veteran member of the city aldermanic board, died in a local hospital today after an illness of two months.

Funeral services will be held at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow at the First Street Methodist church, with Rev. G. Reid Smith, pastor, officiating. Interment will follow in Riverside cemetery.

Surviving Mr. Layfield are his widow, the former Miss Sarah Pauline (Russ) of Butler; a daughter, Mrs. Walter C. Stevens; one sister, Mrs. J. T. Adams, of Butler.

"My Dentist had the Right Idea.."

BEING A
"DENTAL CRIPPLE"

MEANS PLENTY OF GRIEF!

Help your dentist—give your gums the work they need—
Switch TO IPANA AND MESSAGE today!

YOUR DENTIST can't call on you every day, and massage your gums. But your dentist can advise you. And he does advise you: "Don't neglect tender, ailing gums—don't ignore that tell-tale tinge of 'pink' on your tooth brush!"

"Pink tooth brush" is a warning. When you see it—see your dentist. There's perhaps only one chance in many that it's first evidence of a really serious gum disease. But generally, it is the result of our modern soft food menus—the protest of gums that have never been given enough work to keep them firm and healthy.

If that is true in your case, your dentist will know what you should do. His advice will undoubtedly be "more exercise for your gums, more stimulation"—and usually "Ipana and massage."

For Ipana is especially designed to benefit the gums as well as clean the teeth. Massage a little extra Ipana into your gums with fingertip or brush every time you brush your teeth. Modern dental practice approves it—because Ipana plus massage speeds circulation, wakens lazy tissues to new life.

Help your dentist. Don't let your tooth brush show "pink." Don't risk serious gum troubles—gingivitis, Vincent's disease and even pyorrhea. Keep out of that unhappy group—the "dental cripples." Switch to Ipana and massage today.

Remember—A good Tooth Paste, like a good Dentist, is never a Luxury

PHARR TAX FEE PROBE CONTINUED BY JURORS

Body Called for Special Session at 10 O'Clock This Morning.

Investigation of the fee paid County Attorney Ralph Pharr for collection of $150,000 back taxes from the Coca-Cola International Corporation, will be continued at a special session of the Fulton county grand jury at 10 o'clock this morning, it was understood.

J. T. Upchurch, foreman of the jury, announced the special meeting yesterday after a four-hour session of the grand jury following the completion of routine business.

The foreman did not specifically say the Pharr fee case will be probed today but it was believed the matter will be again taken up as the grand jurors prepare to write their final recommendations to be returned as they go out of office at the end of the week.

If the session this morning does concern the county attorney and the fee paid him for the back tax collection, a number of witnesses will be in all probability be summoned.

Probable Witnesses.

It was believed Tax Assessor Homer Gullatt, who declared he did 90 per cent of the legal work in the investigation of the tax claim against the Coca-Cola International Corporation; T. K. Glenn, president of the Trust Company of Georgia; Edwin F. Johnson, leader of the majority faction of the county commission; Pharr himself, and possibly several others will be summoned to appear before the investigating body during the day.

No special witnesses were interviewed by the grand jurors yesterday but it was known the Pharr case was discussed.

The jurors had before them a number of legal opinions pertaining to the validity of the contract between Pharr and the county commission, whereby Pharr received 20 per cent of all taxes collected from the Coca-Cola International Corporation.

Pharr was paid, by county warrant, $21,304, when the county received $105,000, representing county and state tax, from the corporation. He declared in a statement he retained half this amount and divided the other half equally between John Armistead, special tax investigator employed by the board of tax assessors, and James L. Respass, county auditor.

It was understood the grand jurors

Churches Here Begin Observance Of 40-Day Lenten Period Today

Thousands of Atlantans beginning today will observe one of the most significant ceremonies of Christianity as Ash Wednesday starts the 40-day Lenten period, commemorating the 40 days spent by Jesus in the wilderness.

Prayer services throughout the city will usher in the season and numerous churches have scheduled special services during the period, which is climaxed by Easter, April 12, the most important event in the church calendar.

Churches will observe the traditional sprinkling of ashes on the heads of the faithful as a sign of penitence. Special services will be held in all Catholic churches and other congregations will hold impressive rites.

Lent, as originally observed, was a period of 40 hours, but it was later extended to comprise 36 days of fasting, omitting all Sundays and all Saturdays but one. Ash Wednesday later was added to the fast with the remainder of the week, making the observance as it is now held.

The last seven days of the period mark the climax with the observance of Holy Week, or passion week, which begins with Palm Sunday.

To Hold Communion.

At 10-30 o'clock this morning the Proctorial of St. Philip will inaugurate the season with the service of holy communion. Bishop H. J. McKel will officiate. At 8 o'clock tonight another service will be held by Dean Raimundo de Ories.

The Episcopal churches of Atlanta will open their annual union Lenten services at 8 o'clock tomorrow night at the Proctorial with the Rev. Mortimer Glover, of Macon, officiating. Another program will be held at 3 o'clock Friday and a children's service will be conducted at 4 o'clock.

yesterday were informed by legal experts that the contract with Pharr would be valid if the collection of back taxes was considered by the county commission as outside the regular duties of the county attorney, and that the commission can legally pay the county attorney any additional fee it desires for work done in addition to the county attorney's prescribed duties.

However, other phases of the case were also being considered, it was understood.

Foreman Upchurch said the grand jury yesterday did not take up any questions relating to state affairs.

Fee to Be Paid.

Solicitor General John A. Boykin said he is studying the request of George B. Hamilton, ousted state treasurer, that grand jury action be instigated against Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linder and Charles E. Stewart, inspector of naval stores. Hamilton stated he, as treasurer, had requested the two officials to turn over to him all fees collected by them, as prescribed by law. Their refusal to do so, he stated, constituted a felony under the laws of Georgia.

The solicitor-general yesterday said appointment of a de facto treasurer to whom Linder and Stewart paid this morning by the Rev. John Moore Walker at 11 o'clock tonight.

At St. Timothy's Episcopal church at 9-30 o'clock this morning; Holy Communion church at 11 a. m. and St. John's church, College Park, at 7-30 o'clock tonight.

Glenn Memorial Methodist church will open Lenten observances with a program at 7-15 o'clock tonight at the Theology building at Emory University. Dr. J. B. Hawk will speak on "Entering Lent."

Pastor to Speak.

Services at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will be conducted at 7-30 o'clock tonight by the pastor, the Rev. George F. Hart, who will speak on "The Aim and Meaning of Lent." At the Grace Lutheran church the Rev. Theo. G. Ahrendt will deliver a sermon at 8 o'clock on "The Magnetism of the Cross."

At St. Luke's Episcopal church holy communion will be conducted at 11 o'clock tonight by the Rev. John Moore Walker at 11 o'clock. Services will be held daily at noon in Wilmer chapel except on Fridays and Saturdays.

At St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church the Rev. H. A. DeWald will preach at 7-30 o'clock on "The Vision of the Cross." This will be the first of a series of midweek services.

At the Church of the Epiphany the Rev. Russell K. Smith, rector, will inaugurate a series of Wednesday night services at 7-30 o'clock. Guest ministers will fill the pulpit at following services.

Nightly services will be held at the Longley Avenue Christian church at which visiting ministers will fill the pulpit.

The Unity Fellowship of Atlanta will hold services at 8 o'clock tonight at the Piedmont hotel. Rev. Frank Risk, leader, will speak on "Toward the Resurrection."

Safe Driving Pledge

In the interest of accident prevention and safer conditions on the highways and in co-operation with the Safety Council of The Atlanta Constitution, I am making the following pledge:

1. To drive at moderate speed and on own side of road.
2. Not to pass cars on curves or hills.
3. To stop at stop signs.
4. Not to jump traffic lights.
5. In city traffic to be particularly watchful for pedestrians stepping into the line of traffic from parked cars.
6. Always to give hand signals showing my intention of turning to the left, to the right, or stopping, and not to leave the curb from a parked position without giving a signal.
7. To be fair to other drivers in all respects and to refrain from reckless driving.

The Safety Council of THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Fill out and mail this pledge to the Safety Council of The Atlanta Constitution, inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope for return of windshield stickers.

Resolution Passed by City Council Praises Constitution Safety Drive

A copy of the resolution passed last week by the Atlanta city council commending the safety campaign of The Constitution was received by the Safety Council of The Constitution yesterday.

"Whereas, The Atlanta Constitution is engaged in educational drive to educate the citizens in safe driving, and

"Whereas, this drive is of far-reaching effects, and

"Whereas, one way to avoid the enormous number of deaths which happen each year on our highways is to educate the drivers of all vehicles in a program of safe driving,

"Therefore, be it resolved by the mayor and general council of the city of Atlanta that The Atlanta Constitution be commended for its efforts in this behalf and that the mayor and general council stand ready and willing to co-operate in an undertaking of this kind."

The resolution was adopted February 19, and approved February 19. The copy, signed by City Clerk J. L. Richardson, was sent by Ellis B. Barrett, mayor pro tem.

The mail the Safety Council of The Constitution, sponsor of a safe driving, safe walking campaign in Atlanta, and surrounding territory, also received yesterday was a letter from Mrs. E. Bruce, of 2251 Peachtree road, which said:

"Inclosed find some recent pictures of a terrible death which happened near my home town, and after seeing such a tragedy, I feel that the photographs should be passed on in the interest of your safety campaign."

"Include my name on your list of safe drivers."

The tragedy to which Mrs. Bruce referred was the greatest grade crossing tragedy in the history of Indiana, a family of 12 persons being wiped out when their automobile crashed into a train, at Grabbill crossing, near Fort Wayne, Ind. The horrible as was this accident, in which an entire family was wiped out at one stroke, it is not half so horrible as the tremendous yearly toll in this country.

There is but one answer to reducing that toll, stresses the Safety Council, and that answer is brief—Drive carefully at all times! This lesson cannot be stressed or repeated too much!

Like Mrs. Bruce hundreds of persons have joined with the Safety Council in this fight against needless death.

Join today, by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Safety Council and receive stickers for your car and other material relative to safety.

Sign the safety pledge printed in this newspaper as part of its campaign, and follow the seven, simple rules of safety it outlines.

Observe the proper use of hand signals when you are at the wheel of your car. Give yourself and the other fellow a break! Don't be careless or lazy about this "simple" thing. They may save you untold suffering, or even your life.

Enlist in the safety army now!

FORESTRY CLASS VISITS U. S. OFFICE

Georgia Students Inspect Administrative Work in Regional Bureau Here.

An inside slant on the inside job of forestry has been given to a group of 17 students of the Georgia Forestry School of Forestry, who are here on a study tour, by the U. S. PNEUMONIA, MEASLES TAKES LIVES OF THREE PEACHTREE, Miss. Feb. 25.—(AP)—Pneumonia following attacks of measles has claimed the lives of three children in the family of Mrs. Sones Chapel community in four days.

The victims were Mrs. Amazon Regan, 32; Mrs. Elizabeth M. Miller, 30, the mother of Mrs. Regan, and her son, John Paul Miller, 18.

A fourth member of the family, Miss Lucille Miller, 16-year-old daughter of Mrs. Miller, was critically ill with double pneumonia.

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS HEAR MARGARET GLENN

Margaret Murney Glenn, C. S. B., of Boston, a member of the Christian Science board of lecturership, delivered a lecture entitled "Christian Science: The Revelation of Love as First Principle" last night under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the church edifice, Peachtree and Fifteenth streets.

Miss Glenn was introduced by John L. Quirk, first reader.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

Candidates To Expound Platforms At Women's League Session Today

Candidates for county offices in the March 11 primary will face a barrage of questions today at a luncheon sponsored by the Atlanta League of Women Voters.

Invited to present their platforms and qualifications, the aspirants will be asked by the women voters whether or not they favor merging city and county governments; what are their views on tax reforms and their opinions on other better government efforts.

The luncheon is to be held at 12-30 o'clock this afternoon at the Ansley hotel, with Mrs. Leonard Haas, president of the league, presiding.

Candidates addressed two gatherings last night and prepared for a number of other political rallies during the remainder of the week.

Meetings will be held at the Lucile Avenue school, where Roy McCraw, candidate for county commissioner, was host, and at the Center Hill school under the auspices of the West Side Civic League of which Dr. C. W. Childs is president.

A Bell-for-Judge Club will hold a meeting tonight at 8-15 Fox street in the fifth ward, with Thomas E. Higgins presiding. Friends of Judge Clarence Bell, who is running to succeed himself as municipal court judge, will hold a meeting Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Clement, 861 Rock Springs road, in the thirteenth ward. W. C. Jenkins, secretary of the Thirteenth Ward Club, said Judge Bell "is basing his campaign on the splendid record he has made during the last eight years as municipal court judge."

A political rally in the interest of Commissioners George F. Longino and J. A. Ragsdale, candidates to succeed themselves as the minority faction of the county board, will be held Thursday night in East Point, and campaign leaders declared it will be one of the largest of the current race. All candidates are invited to attend.

Alderman J. C. (Mott) Aldridge, candidate for sheriff, will be principal speaker at a meeting in his behalf to be held at 7-30 o'clock Thursday night at 556 Lee street, in West End. Aldridge, who bases his campaign on efficiency and his business record, has specially invited women to be present.

All candidates are invited to speak at a meeting at the Home Park school in the eighth ward beginning at 8 o'clock Monday night. Special music will be provided. This meeting is for no particular candidate, its backers stated.

Whether or not candidates have opposition, they are invited to appear at a Saturday afternoon at 1-30 o'clock in Alpharetta.

Loud-speakers will be installed and the candidates will make their addresses from a balcony of the old courthouse to the crowd which will be on the lawn, it was said. Alpharetta residents declared the rally will attract several hundred persons.

CARD 'SALESMAN' IS INDICTED HERE

Joe Lewis Charged With Cheating; 19 Other Bills Returned.

Charged with cheating and swindling Mrs. Emma McDaniel, of the Georgian Terrace hotel, Joe Lewis, a white man with several aliases, was indicted by the Fulton grand jury in two true bills returned yesterday.

Lewis allegedly swindled Mrs. McDaniel by representing himself as a bridge card salesman and by "artful practices," persuading her to buy $15 worth of cards from him. The cards were not delivered after payment. The grand jury also accused Lewis of forgery in connection with a $15 check drawn on the Hibernia National Bank of New Orleans which was signed with the name of Mrs. G. B. Levy, Roosevelt hotel, New Orleans.

Hilton R. Pilcher, 20-year-old white youth, was indicted for assault with intent to murder his father, A. M. Pilcher, of 627 Evans street, S. W. City police charged the son slugged his father with a blackjack on February 16 as the elder Pilcher lay in bed at his home.

Three true bills named Albert Mills, negro, on charges of assault with intent to murder B. W. Durham, a merchant, on December 3. Durham was shot when he resisted a holdup. Mills was accused of robbery and carrying a pistol without a license also.

The grand jury returned three no-bills yesterday morning together with 19 true bills. Several other indictments were made yesterday afternoon to be returned in open court this morning.

REV. J. S. ASKEW RITES WILL BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for the Rev. J. S. Askew, widely known north Georgia conference Methodist minister, who died Monday, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Haneyville Methodist church with the Rev. Irvy Henderson and the Rev. Henry L. Smith officiating.

Members of the North Georgia conference will serve as pallbearers and honorary escort.

A member of a pioneer Georgia family, the Rev. Mr. Askew was one of the most prominent ministers in the state. He had served the church for 52 years, holding numerous pastorates in all sections of north Georgia. He entered the ministry in 1883.

Burial will be in West View cemetery.

DINNER TO BE FEATURE OF MERCHANTS' WEEK

W. Eugene Harrington, Robert Strickland to Address Gathering.

W. Eugene Harrington, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, and Robert Strickland, executive vice president of a local trust company, will be the principal speakers at the dinner to be given by 39 Atlanta concerns next Wednesday night, at the Ansley hotel roof garden, as a feature of Style and Market Week.

Invitations have been issued to representative merchants of Georgia and the surrounding states. More than 700 merchants, the number attending Style and Market Week last fall, are expected to be present at the dinner, according to Perryman Little, publicity chairman.

Miss Margaret Reeves, expert stylist of Detroit, will be in charge of the style revue. There also will be a floor show and a dance, following the fashion parade.

Tickets to the dinner will be issued by a central committee, under the direction of Milton Rice, general chairman.

MEW CONSULTANT

Emory Treasurer Appointed to Commission.

G. H. Mew, treasurer of Emory University and business law instructor at the institution, was notified yesterday of his appointment as a consultant of the Educational Policies Commission at Washington.

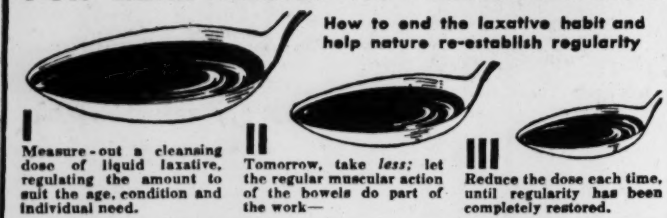

Appointed for a five-year term in 1935 by the joint action of the National Education Association and the Department of Superintendence, the commission was organized to develop long-range planning for the improvement of American schools.

Consultants are ex-officio members of the commission, who will be asked to assist by expressing opinions on the issues submitted, by raising additional issues to be considered, and by serving on committees. The appointment of a group of education leaders and consultants is an important item in the development of the planning project.

"It Worked for ME!"

The doctor said it would—

FOR REAL RELIEF OF CONSTIPATION

Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?

The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives.

You can use a liquid laxative at home. And if you knew what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the real secret of relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help when the dosage is repeated. Taking a little less each time, gives the bowels a chance to act of their own accord, until they are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all.

Once you have experienced this comfort, you will never go back to any form of help that cannot be regulated to suit the need!

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It containsenna and cascara—both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. The action is gentle, but sure. It will relieve any sluggishness or bilious condition due to constipation. It is the very nicest tasting, nicest acting preparation you can buy. So, try Syrup Pepsin. You just take reduced doses till Nature restores regularity.

Mrs. Emma Malcom, 85, mother of Captain Jack T. Malcom, of the Atlanta police department, died at 8 o'clock yesterday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Hogan, of 140 Holliday street, N. E. She had been ill with pneumonia for several days.

Mrs. Malcom formerly lived at Conyers but had lived in Atlanta with her children for the last 15 years. She was widely known as a religious leader both here and in Conyers. She was a devout member of the Bald Rock Primitive Baptist church, of Conyers, and the daughter of the late Elder V. M. Almond, of Bostwick. Her husband was John G. Malcom, Confederate veteran of Conyers, who died in November, 1919.

Surviving are five sons, W. J. Malcom, J. V. Malcom, and Captain Malcom, all of Atlanta; Judge George Malcom, of Conyers, and Thomas H. Malcom, of Miami; three daughters, Mrs. Mattie Bostwick, Mrs. Julie A. Davis and Mrs. Hogan, of Atlanta, and a sister, Mrs. W. B. T. Jones, of Bostwick. She also is survived by 21 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon (central standard time) at the Baptist church at Conyers, and interment will be in the cemetery there. The Rev. R. B. White will officiate. Pallbearers will be selected from among her grandsons.

Harry White, funeral director of Conyers, will be in charge.

PAIS PROPOSES PACT FOR 4 NAVAL POWERS

Britain Will Make Separate Agreement With Nazis Under Plan.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—France, reportedly alarmed over a British proposal for an Anglo-German-American naval treaty, has made counter-proposals for an agreement, it was learned authoritatively tonight.

The French suggested that members of the present four-power conference, Britain, the United States, France and Italy, sign a treaty and that afterward Great Britain make a separate naval agreement with Germany, along the same lines but outside the conference.

Breakdown Anticipated.
This development came after Britain, anticipating a breakdown of the four-power talks, proposed a three-cornered treaty with Germany and the United States. France had refused to yield to British demands that Germany be invited to the conference, demanding a defensive air pact with Britain that she would sign no agreement until League sanctions against her have been lifted.

The French, it was learned, told the British last night they felt the existing difficulties between them could be ironed out and also that they could convince the Italians to drop their demand for withdrawal of the British fleet from the Mediterranean and the lifting of sanctions as the price for signing an agreement.

The Anglo-German-American proposal is still being pushed but it is understood the United States has not yet indicated its reaction. Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, while lunching with Dino Grandi, the Italian ambassador, took up political aspects of the naval treaty, including questions concerning the Italo-Italian pact, it was reported.

Size of Ships Limited.
Under the proposed Anglo-German-American treaty, the sizes and types of ships and ships would be limited and the three annually would exchange information on construction programs. This is the substance of the agreement now being discussed by the four powers. It was pointed out that such an agreement would not be an alliance, since Washington would not want to appear to be taking sides in Europe. Germany was understood to be favorably disposed toward any naval agreement with Britain.

The British naval leaders were reported to be "disturbed" by France's opposition to the inclusion of Germany in an agreement, annoyed by the Italian demands, and "greatly disillusioned" by Japan's recent withdrawal from the conference.

PICKETS RELAXATION AT TIRE PLANT NOTED

AKRON, Ohio, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Tension relaxed on the picket lines around the strike-bound plants of the Good-year Tire & Rubber Company tonight and Sheriff James T. Flower decided national guardsmen are not needed at present.

Secretary of Labor Perkins announced in Washington that Edward F. McGrady would be sent here to represent the department in an effort to seek a settlement. The strike, which started more than a week ago with a "sit down" protest of tire builders, has thrown 14,000 men out of work and halted all except maintenance operations in the plants.

The sheriff said crowds of pickets and sympathizers, once numbering 5,000 and armed with clubs, guns, gas and other weapons, had dispersed.

HENRY ROOSEVELT PAID LAST TRIBUTE

Body of Late Naval Official Borne to Cemetery on Gun Carriage.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—Borne to a resting place on a gun carriage drawn by 12 white horses, the body of Henry L. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, was buried today in Arlington national cemetery.

President and Mrs. Roosevelt and scores of high army, navy and marine officials stood with bowed heads as "Taps" echoed away in the distant Virginia hillsides.

After church services the body was taken to the Lincoln memorial, where it was transferred to a gun carriage to move on to the cemetery. A large American flag covered the casket.

As the cortege reached the east gate of Arlington a salute of 17 guns boomed out.

At the graveside, the flag of Colonel Roosevelt, white background with a blue anchor in the center and blue stars in each corner, was raised. The band, their instruments muted, played "Nearer My God to Thee."

The marines—720 of them—presented arms, then came to "parade rest" while Captain Sydney K. Evans, former chief of naval chaplains, read the burial service.

Three volleys were fired by a marine detachment and then a drum sergeant sounded "Taps." Out of respect for the assistant secretary, the Navy Department closed for two hours.

Absent was Secretary Swanson, himself confined by illness to the naval hospital where Colonel Roosevelt died.

H. C. NAYLOR IS NAMED DRUG COUNCIL MEMBER

H. C. Naylor, of Atlanta, was appointed a member of the executive council of the National Association of Chain Drug Stores at its February meeting in New York city recently, it was learned yesterday.

He also was re-elected a member of the board of directors.

The Atlanta, who returned from the convention yesterday, has been a director of the association for the last year. He is recognized as an expert in problems relating to the management of drug stores. Chain drug stores throughout the country are members of the national organization.

Man, Wife Are Held After 'Trance' Threats

BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 25.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ehmke, a middle-aged Lockport, N. Y., couple, today faced a charge of sending a threatening letter to a woman as saying "spirits" dictated.

R. Edwin Sackett, special agent of the Department of Justice, said Frank M. Hardiman, president of the Harrison Radiator Corporation of Lockport, had received a letter threatening to blow up the plant unless working conditions were changed. It also threatened "your big chief," whom Sackett identified as Alfred P. Sloan Jr., General Motors head.

Ehmke has been a tool maker at the plant for 12 years.

Sackett said a series of mimeographed spiritualistic "messages" signed by Mrs. Ehmke and sent to Lockport residents led him to attend a "seance."

While he and another federal agent were seated at the table with her, he said, she went into a "trance" and dictated the letter to her husband.

The injured youths were treated at Grady hospital and allowed to return to their homes.

ROOSEVELT APPROVES NEW MARINE AIR BASE

Virgin Islands Included in Executive's National Defense Plans.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—A plan for extending the national defense through the creation of a permanent marine corps aviation base in the Virgin Islands today carried the formal approval of President Roosevelt.

A Presidential executive order, transferring the necessary land on St. Thomas island, a part of the Virgin group, from the civil jurisdiction of the Interior Department to the navy, was made public at the State Department.

Naval officials, it was revealed, regard the project as an important adjunct to the maneuvering of the fleet in the Caribbean and the Pacific. The island, located on the imaginary line between the Atlantic ocean and the Caribbean sea, is within easy flying distance of the Panama canal.

To Increase Force.
Marine corps planes already have been assigned to St. Thomas on a full-time basis. Officials indicated, however, that it is the government's intention to increase this force to full squadrons, totaling 36 planes, as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made.

A substantial area forming the northeastern corner of St. Thomas island was set aside for control by the navy in the "establishment, construction, and operation of aviation facilities."

A construction contract involving an expenditure of $250,000, already has been let for the erection of a large hangar, runways for land planes, ramps for seaplanes, storage facilities and water systems. This work is to be completed this fall.

Strategic Importance.
Marine corps officials said the base would be important chiefly in providing a much needed repair, storage and fueling station for naval and marine planes which several times yearly conduct fleet maneuvers in that area of the West Indies. Observers also viewed such a base as of strategic importance in providing quick aid for the aerial defense of the Panama canal in time of emergencies.

Its potential value as an emergency landing field for commercial air lines operating through the Caribbean also was noted.

FIVE YOUTHS INJURED IN TRIPLE COLLISION

A careening automobile last night struck a parked car at McDonough boulevard and Jonesboro road and then crashed into an auto occupied by five youths, who were cut and bruised.

The driver of the other car abandoned the vehicle and fled after the crash occurred at about 10 o'clock.

The injured youths were treated at Grady hospital and allowed to return to their homes.

They were Rance Bailey, 28, of 700 McDonough road; James Kilgore, 21, of Constitution, Ga.; James F. Duke, 20, of Key road; James Bailey, 22, and Shelton Compton, both of 1394 Moreland avenue.

'Gloomy Sunday,' Song of Suicides, Makes Appearance in New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—(UP)—"Gloomy Sunday," Hungarian musical composition which Budapest police ordered suppressed because it drove 18 persons to suicide, made its appearance in New York today.

There is little likelihood that it will become even relatively as popular as it did in Hungary, or approach in popularity that American ditty about music traveling in circles because:

First, "Szomorú Vasárnap"—that's Hungarian for "Gloomy Sunday"—is available in only one small music shop off the beaten path.

Second, the words are in Hungarian. Here is a free translation of the verses Hungarian authorities regard as so sinister:

"Gloomy Sunday, with a hundred white flowers—
I've been waiting for you, my dear, to come back,
Waiting with temple prayer.
But this is a dream—chasing Sunday afternoon.

The black coach of my sorrow has returned without you.
After this, and is always the Sunday.
SECOND VERSE.
"Now it is my own last Sunday,
sweetheart,
There'll be a priest, a coffin, a veil and a mourning bier.
Flowers, also, on the gloomy tree above
As I go my last way.
Now my eyes shall be opened to see you again.
Don't be afraid of me, love.
Even as I come to you, in death, I am blessing you,
Gloomy Sunday."

Serecs Rozsa, a Budapest composer, wrote the music and Savor Laszlo, popular poet, wrote the words.

HUNGARIAN MELODY IS POPULAR IN PARIS
PARIS, Feb. 25.—(UP)—"Gloomy Sunday" is popular in Parisian cabarets and cafes where it has been changed into a tango.

Gigolos sing the melancholy strain softly into the ears of their elderly dancing partners. The orchestra leader at the Hungarian cafe in the Champs Elysees told the United Press

SUBSTITUTE IS SOUGHT FOR TEXTILE MEASURE

Constitutionality of Ellenbogen Bill Doubtful by Solons.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—(AP)—A house labor subcommittee discarded the Ellenbogen textile control act because of doubts about its constitutionality.

Backers of the measure still hoped, however, for legislation to regulate the textile industry.

Representative Ellenbogen, Democrat, Pennsylvania, author of the original bill, and Gregory Hankin, of the NRA legal division, who prepared a substitute measure at the request of Chairman Keller, of the subcommittee, plan to confer this week in an attempt to agree on a compromise draft.

"We've got to have something that will get by the supreme court," Keller said, while Hankin assured reporters that "the substitute bill will go as far as constitutionally possible."

Hankin's draft is said to make a clear distinction between interstate and intra-state commerce, and to leave to a proposed textile commission the power to set minimum wages for various classifications of labor.

The original Ellenbogen bill, upon which public hearings recently were held, called for a 35-hour week and a minimum wage of $15 for unskilled labor, as compared with the old NRA codes which provided for a 40-hour week and a minimum wage of $12 in most divisions of the industry.

During the hearings on the original bill, two governors, Curley, of Massachusetts, and Earle, of Pennsylvania, expressed themselves as favoring the objectives of the legislation, while manufacturers opposed the bill as unconstitutional and unnecessary.

Labor, as represented by the United Textile Workers, pleaded for its enactment.

Society's Attention Is Focused Upon Gay Festivities for Visitors

By Sally Forth.

NO DEBUTANTE house party has ever received more social attention than the trio of attractive young matrons who are visiting Mrs. George Street this week at her home on Wesley road. Mrs. Street, you know, has just returned from an extensive western trip, and realizing how flat things can fall after such a gay and exciting time, she probably had the happy thought of assembling the house party in self-defense. And such a happy thought it turned out to be for Atlanta society!

Of course this visit is just another home-coming for Mrs. Street's sister, Mrs. Marshall Diggs, who was born and reared in Atlanta as Alice Muse. After her marriage she made her home in Dallas, Texas, where she was president of the Junior League and the leader of just about everything that was smart and fashionable.

It was when Mrs. Street visited her in Dallas that she met Mrs. William Browning, another of the house party guests. Mrs. Diggs now makes her home in the national capital, and on a recent visit there Mrs. Street met Mrs. James D. Taylor, who completes the charming trio.

So many parties have been planned by the hostess' friends that there are hardly enough waking hours to crowd them all in. Today Mrs. Robert H. White entertains at luncheon, and this afternoon Mr. and Mrs. John Westmoreland will be hosts at an informal tea at their home on Club drive. Prince Webster will be host at dinner this evening at his home on Wesley road, with the visitors as central figures.

Tomorrow's calendar includes a luncheon at which Mrs. Bolling Jones Jr. will be hostess. Mrs. Allison Thornwell has planned a luncheon for Saturday and in the afternoon of the same date Mr. and Mrs. Langdon Quin will keep open house at their home on Palisades road. Judge and Mrs. Luther Foster have chosen Sunday as the date for their aperitif party in compliment to the group. The affair will be given at their home on Cherokee road.

Yesterday Mrs. Glenn Ryman assembled a group of matrons for luncheon at the Driving Club in honor of Mrs. Street's guests. The luncheon table was a masterpiece of the hostess' artistic skill. It was centered with an antique silver epergne filled with luscious hothouse fruits. Flanking the centerpiece were a pair of old crystal and emerald candlesticks, which are Mrs. Ryman's special pride and joy. Gracing either end of the table were antique silver wine coolers filled with white calla lilies, jonquils, red tulips, white stocks and freesias. Can you imagine the sheer beauty of the arrangement?

Assisting the hostess were her sister, Mrs. Asa Patterson, Mesdames Julian Harrison, George Street and Charles Pottinger. Other who have planned parties for these popular visitors are Mrs. Edgar Upton and Mrs. John O. Donaldson.

IT IS generally conceded that clocks are temperamental but award for the most temperamental Atlanta-owned clock goes to a little pink enameled time-piece owned by Otey Mitchell. His mother, Mrs. Norwood Mitchell, owns a blue enameled clock that keeps perfect time and holds forth in her boudoir on Columbia avenue.

Not long ago Otey's clock stopped entirely and nothing he did seemed to make it run. One day his mother placed her blue clock beside the pink one in Otey's room. Just as long as the timepieces stand side by side Otey's keeps perfect time, but it stops instantly whenever its companion is moved.

SALLY always regrets to chronicle the permanent departure of members of Atlanta society. And most especially when it means relinquishing such an attractive couple as Major and Mrs. Gus Tolson.

The Tolsons, it seems, are leaving to make their home in Houston, Texas. In fact, Major Tolson left two weeks ago for the Lone Star State, and Mrs. Tolson will join him the middle of March. They have taken a house in Houston and it will doubtless become as much a center of informal entertaining as was their attractive white clapboard home on Pace's Ferry road.

Major Tolson is a popular member of both military and civilian contingents here. A splendid horseman, he is a familiar figure on Atlanta bridge paths, and his capable and always gracious services at the annual horse shows will be greatly missed. Society is also accustomed to seeing him as referee in the polo matches held during the season at the local army post.

No less popular and charming is Mrs. Tolson, who is known to her intimates as "Tillie." She is a hostess par excellence and is an attractive addition to any social gathering.

West End Civic Club Will Meet Today.

The open meeting of the Civic Club of West End will be held today at 2:30 o'clock in the club auditorium with Mrs. Otis Witherspoon, president, presiding. This will be "federation day," and many phases of federated work will be discussed.

Mrs. Fort Land, state supervisor of the library youth project, will speak on her particular line of work. The young matrons' division of the club have already contributed 150 books to this cause.

The musical program will be under the direction of Mrs. Lon Livingston, chairman of music for the club.

At the last business meeting the nominating committee was elected, namely, Mrs. L. A. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Jesse Manly, Mrs. Murray Howard, Mrs. B. E. Elrod, Mrs. J. H. Savage.

Enterkin-Andrews.
A marriage of interest to hosts of friends is that of Miss Dorothy Enterkin to Grady Andrews Jr., which took place on January 3, at Lake Burton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. B. Gibbs, of Tiger, Ga.

Mrs. Andrews is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Enterkin, of 34 Arden way, N. E. She wore a smart ensemble of gray crepe. Her hat was a becoming model of gray felt, and she wore gray accessories.

Mr. Andrews attended Tech High school and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Andrews Sr., of West End. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews Jr. are residing at 1468 Lucile avenue.

Miss Corrigan Weds John C. Woolfolk At Church Ceremony

Social interest centers in the marriage of Miss Margaret Corrigan to John Collier Woolfolk, formerly of Columbus and Montgomery, Ala., which was solemnized at an impressive ceremony yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Sacred Heart Catholic church. The Rev. Father John Emmert performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride had for her matron of honor and only attendant her sister, Mrs. William Prestman Hunter, who was becomingly gowned in a sage green crepe with hat and accessories to match. She wore a corsage of talisman roses and lilies of the valley.

Stockton Hume was the groom's best man.

The lovely bride was gowned in a three-piece ensemble of gray wool trimmed with platinum fox fur, with which she wore a smart gray hat and other accessories to match and a corsage of orchids.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Woolfolk left for New Orleans, and upon their return they will be at home at 1333 West Peachtree street.

Mrs. Woolfolk is the daughter of Mrs. Thomas Francis Corrigan and the late Mr. Corrigan, who was a prominent attorney of Atlanta. Her sisters are Mrs. W. P. Hunter and Miss Elizabeth Corrigan, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Q. R. Nolan, of Macon; and her brothers are James Paul Corrigan, of Atlanta, and Thomas F. Corrigan Jr., and Charles Corrigan, of New York city.

Mr. Woolfolk is the only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Evelyn Woolfolk, of Columbus. His sisters are Misses Henrietta and Emily Woolfolk, of Montgomery, Ala.

Trio of Prominent Visitors

Miss Camilla Holland Becomes Bride of Dr. David B. Smith

Miss Camilla Holland became the bride of Dr. David B. Smith Jr. at a quiet but beautiful ceremony taking place yesterday morning at the Sacred Heart Catholic church. The Rev. Father John Emmerich officiated at the nuptial mass in the presence of friends and relatives.

The church was effectively decorated with the bridal color motif of green and white, a graceful arrangement of Easter lilies and palms being featured in the decorations. Miss Minna Hecker sang "The Ave Maria" as the guests assembled.

Mrs. Pottinger's Tea Honors Visitors.

Among the interesting affairs of yesterday's social calendar was the lovely tea which Mrs. Charles T. Pottinger was hostess at her home on Rivers road. The affair was a complimentary gesture to Mrs. Pottinger's guest, Mrs. Hatcher Boykin, of Columbus, and to Mrs. George Street's guests, Mrs. Marshall Diggs and Mrs. James D. Taylor, of Washington, and Mrs. William Browning, of Dallas, Texas.

The lace-covered tea table was centered with a crystal bowl filled with fragrant spring blossoms in the Dresden tints. Matching crystal candlesticks held pale green tapers.

Assisting Mrs. Pottinger in entertaining her guests were Mesdames George Street, Wiley Bullard, Glenn Ryman, Edward G. Hitt, Charles Freeman, Frank Carter, Charlotte Woolford and Irving Schewepe.

Martha Washington Luncheon Given.

Atlanta Chapter D. A. R. entertained recently at a Martha Washington luncheon at Craig House, with many prominent guests present.

Mrs. Frances Brown Chase, regent, welcomed the guests following the invocation of the chaplain, Mrs. T. C. Meli, and a musical program by Mrs. Julius DeGivie and Mrs. A. B. Morrison.

The vice regents, Mrs. George Breitenbacher and Mrs. Moreland Speer, presided at the coffee tables, beautifully centered with mounds of spring blossoms.

Committees having charge of the luncheon were Mesdames Logan Thomson, flowers; E. S. Lewis, decorations; arrangements, George Breitenbacher, E. S. Lewis, John Rice and John Hancock; tickets, Moreland Speer and W. C. Carpenter; reception, Forrest Barfield, James Jetton, and assisting, Misses Willie Fort Williams, Ruby Blankenship, Lamar Lowe and Barbara Baker.

Miss Frances Spinks Honored at Shower.

Miss Peggy O'Neil entertained at her home on Fairview road, recently, with a kitchen shower in compliment to Miss Frances Spinks, whose approaching marriage to A. J. Mundy Jr. is of interest to a wide circle of friends.

The guest prize was a lovely framed etching and the contest prize, won by Mrs. J. R. Spinks Sr., was a jardiniere holding a patterned fern.

The tea table was covered with a lace cloth and the bride's cake topped by a miniature bride and groom, formed the centerpiece. White satin streamers held by gaily dressed dolls marked the place of each guest, with a bouquet of roses and valley lilies marking the place for the guest of honor.

The guest list included Misses Frances Spinks, May Tom Haynes, Margaret Lawrence, Grace Hendry, Lucy Shadburn, Frances House, Doris Mundy, Margaret Young, Frances Farris, Elizabeth Johnson, Isabel Steel, Edith Greunde, Virginia Oliver, Marion Rogers, Mesdames J. R. Spinks Sr., C. M. Bowden, Charles Payne, J. G. Oliver and J. R. Spinks Jr.

Miss Jeffie Marley Weds Mr. Eidson.

Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Marley, of Union City, Ga., announce the marriage of their daughter, Jeffie Irene, to Herman Parker Eidson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Eidson, of Union City, Ga., the marriage having been solemnized on February 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Eidson left for a wedding trip to Florida, and upon their return will reside at Union City, Ga.

NEVER at a disadvantage, never breaks engagements, never declines dances (unless she wants to) and her spirits never seem to droop. A smart woman does not suffer needless pain certain days of every month. She has heard of Midol, tried it, and proved to her satisfaction and joy that Midol does relieve periodic pain and discomfort.

Must you favor yourself, and save yourself, certain days of every month? Midol might give you back those days you have had to be so careful. You can get Midol in a trim little aluminum case at any drug store. It isn't a narcotic, so why not try it?

Parties Are Given In Marietta, Ga.

MARIETTA, Ga., Feb. 25.—Charlie Thomas entertained at a steak fry Saturday at his cabin near Marietta and his guests were Misses Isabel McCain, of Decatur; Marie Klein and Katharine Arnold, of Atlanta; Mary Louise Dunn, of Marietta; and Joe Ford, Bond Fleming and Merriwether Barnett, of Atlanta.

Mrs. Morgan McNeel Jr. had as luncheon guests on Monday, Mesdames George Danore, Beverly Dubose and Bolling Jones Jr., of Atlanta.

Mrs. H. E. Hague entertained a group of friends at a pancake luncheon Tuesday at her home, Ridge Crest, on the Powder Springs road.

Mrs. T. M. Brumby was one of the guests Thursday at a luncheon of the press association at Athens.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane Merritt and children, of Greenville, S. C., were week-end guests of Mrs. J. J. Daniel on Kennesaw avenue.

Mrs. Farquhar Gignilliat, who has been visiting Mrs. Daniel for several weeks, returned to South Carolina with them.

Paul Owenby, of Murphy, N. C., visited Mrs. Owenby at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Holland, of Kennesaw avenue, over the week-end.

Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Welch are enjoying a hunting trip this week in south Georgia.

Harry Norton, of Emory University, attended a fraternal gathering during the week-end at Birmingham, Ala.

Officers for the coming year for the Marietta Garden Club elected at a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. J. R. Brumby are Mrs. A. V. Cortright, president; Mrs. T. M. Brumby, vice president; Mrs. Campbell Wallace, secretary; Mrs. Lewis Turner, treasurer, and Mrs. J. D. Reynolds, corresponding secretary.

Misses Howard Perkins and Della Hancock, Don Arnold and Tom Perkins motored to Athens for the week-end where Miss Perkins was the guest of Miss Helen Northcutt at the University of Georgia, and Miss Hancock visited Miss Hightower.

Mrs. Max Clotfelter and baby daughter were recent guests of Mrs. Jimmy Morris in Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Petty attended the dinner-dance Saturday at East Lake in Atlanta. Mrs. Petty was one of the guests at the bridge-luncheon given recently by Mrs. Frank O'Gara in Atlanta.

Morgan McNeel Jr. is spending several days in Jacksonville, Fla.

Miss Ida Brumby, of Columbia, S. C., was the weekend guest of Mrs. Katharine Kennedy on Church street.

Mesdames W. H. Perkins and M. H. Coleman attended the P. T. A. study class at the Henry Grady hotel Friday in Atlanta.

M. H. Coleman is on an extended tour of five states and will visit Little Rock, Memphis, Baton Rouge and other cities before returning to Marietta.

Mrs. Milton McLain entertained her bridge club Tuesday at her home on Hillside avenue.

Baron DeKalb D. A. R.

Baron DeKalb Chapter, D. A. R., will meet Friday at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. E. Newberry, 2160 Ponce de Leon avenue, N. E.

N. E. Daugherty will be cohostess. Mrs. H. B. Carlier will arrange the program and Mrs. M. S. Franks, Dearborn 1738, is chairman of the transportation committee.

Mrs. Walter Estes, the regent, will preside and Dr. J. R. McCain, president of Agnes Scott College, will speak on some phase of the life of George Washington.

Mrs. C. C. Adams, accompanied by Mrs. Burt Richardson at the piano, will sing a group of songs.

Miss Neely Talks.

Miss Rachel Neely was guest speaker at the meeting of the Quota Club held on Monday evening.

Wellborn-Hopkins Wedding Solemnized in Anniston, Ala.

MRS. LINTON COOKE HOPKINS JR.

Centering the interest of fashionable society throughout Georgia and Alabama was the marriage of Miss Mary Graves Wellborn, daughter of Maxmillian Bethune Wellborn, and Linton Cooke Hopkins Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Linton Cooke Hopkins, which was solemnized last evening at the Grace Episcopal church in Anniston, Ala. The Rev. James M. Stoney, rector of the church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a brilliant assemblage of southern society.

Church Decorations.

The decorations in the church carried out the color motif of green and white, Easter lilies and palms being used in profusion. The chancel was banked with palms and ferns with tall flower baskets of Easter lilies placed at intervals. The vases on the altar held Easter lilies and clusters of the flowers marked the pews reserved for the families.

Several seven-branched cathedral candelabra, holding burning white tapers, were placed amid the greenery.

Mrs. Duke Logan, organist, gave a program of nuptial music as the guests were assembling, and James Calhoun sang "Calm Is the Night." A vested choir, singing the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin," heralded the approach of the bride, and Mendelssohn's wedding march was used as the processional.

The ushers were William Wellborn and Walter Wellborn, brothers of the bride; Cabell Hopkins, brother of the groom, and Wright Bryan.

Miss Virginia Courts was maid of honor and little Miss Stella Wellborn, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Miss Courts was lovely in a model of pale blue net, poised over blue tulle, and fashioned with a neck. The gown was held together over the shoulders with rhinestone rings, and the only other ornament was a rhinestone buckle at the waist. She wore blue slippers and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses and yellow snapdragons, tied with yellow ribbon.

Beautiful Bride.

The radiantly beautiful bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage, and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Samuel Weyman. Her stately beauty was accentuated by her wedding gown of antique satin, made on form-fitting lines with a long train extending in the back. The square neck was outlined with rose point lace, a family heirloom, and the long sleeves were finished with cuffs of the lace. She wore a veil of real lace, made cap style, with a short face veil and a band of orange blossoms across the back. She carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies, tied with white satin ribbon, and her only ornament was a circle of diamonds, a gift from the groom.

After the ceremony Mr. Wellborn entertained at a brilliant reception at his home, Maxwellwell, near Anniston. The handsome colonial home was decorated throughout with palms, ferns and baskets of Easter lilies and white roses to carry out the bridal color note of green and white.

The bride's table was overlaid with an exquisite white satin cloth and had for its central decoration the wedding cake, in the shape of a ring and beautifully embossed with white roses. Arranged in the center of the cake was a silver bowl of white roses and greenery and similar bowls were at both ends of the table. Placed at the sides of the centerpiece were tall silver candelabra holding burning white tapers. The places of the 26 guests at the table were marked by bridal figures.

Mr. Wellborn was assisted in entertaining the guests by his daughter, Mrs. J. F. Mathews, of Anniston, who was gowned in blue lace with a shoulder cluster of orchids.

Mrs. Linton C. Hopkins, mother of the groom, wore a model of black lace with a corsage of orchids. Mrs. Prescott Bigelow, of Boston, sister of the groom, wore rose bagheera crepe with a shoulder bouquet of Parma violets.

Mrs. William Wellborn, sister of the bride, was gowned in blue tulle, and Mrs. Walter Wellborn, another sister, wore a printed crepe frock.

Wedding Journey.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins left on their wedding trip to the gulf coast. Mrs. Hopkins traveled in a smart brown tailored suit with a yellow woolen coat, trimmed with cross fox fur, brown accessories, and a corsage of orchids. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins will reside at 121 Eighth street, northeast.
